Gamification is being increasingly used in education, simulation, community building, training, etc. creating learning and development experiences that are interactive, engaging, and immersive. The possibilities for using game development (creating video games) for Christian ministry are numerous. By employing thoughtful design, engaging narratives, and relevant themes, games can become powerful tools for enriching faith, discipleship, fostering community, and sharing the message of Christ in new and exciting ways. APC is assembling a talented team of game development professionals capable of creating truly great gaming experiences to use this tool to further the purposes of God on the earth.
